Democrats Ask Military Power Be Increased

Eisenhower States Nation Is Prepared For Berlin Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats are renewing their demands for stepped-up U.S. military power despite President Eisenhower's assurance no more is needed to meet the crisis over Berlin.

Eisenhower met Friday with Senate and House leaders of both parties. He reportedly told them that there is nothing he wants Congress to do now to beef up U.S. military might. They said they were told the tools needed to deal with the threat to Berlin have been provided.

Urge More Spending

But numerous Democrats spoke out during the weekend for more spending and greater military preparedness for longer range developments, even as they expressed hope that negotiations will settle the Berlin situation this summer.

Democratic leaders are going ahead quietly with plans to make available up to 750 million dollars more than Eisenhower asked for intercontinental missiles.

While this step is being initiated in the House, a Senate Preparedness subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, will be engaged in a thorough-going reassessment of defense strength.

May Halt Outback

Out of these hearings, which start this week, may come recommendations to halt an ordered cut-back in the Army from 900,000 to 870,000 men and in the Marine Corps from 200,000 to 175,000 men by June 30.

Democrats who attended the White House conferences did not go as far as some of their party colleagues in open challenge to Eisenhower's assessment of military needs. Nevertheless, some of them said they felt the armed forces should be strengthened.

On the other side of the political fence, Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said he is confident Eisenhower knows what he is doing.

"The President is not only alert to everything that is going on in the military field but so is the defense establishment," Dirksen said in an interview. "I am confident of the adequacy of our forces under every circumstance."

Johnson and Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, prodded the administration to bolster military defenses and to take the initiative in foreign policy actions.

Catholics In Leetonia Begin School Project

LEETONIA — Approximately 350 persons attended ceremonies Sunday afternoon when the Rev. Fr. Warren Braun, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, broke ground for a new addition to the church school.

The ceremony began in the church where the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was offered by Fr. Braun, assisted by the Rev. Fr. William Picard of St. Columba's Cathedral at Youngstown and the Rev. Fr. John Cunningham of St. Paul Church in North Canton. The Rosary was led by the Rev. John Murray of St. Brendan's Church in Youngstown.

The Rev. Fr. James Mallone, Ph. D., superintendent of the schools of the Youngstown Diocese, spoke to the parishioners and visitors of the importance and necessity of the new addition.

The color guard of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5332 of Columbiana, led the group to the site of the new addition at the rear of the present building. Fr. Braun turned the first shovel of dirt with a new shovel, presented him by the Rossford VFW Post of Toledo.

Also taking part in the ceremony was the school principal, Sister Ann Charlotte, and church council members.

A congratulatory message was received from Mayor Ralph Kennedy who was in Florida.

Following the ceremony, refreshments were served by the women's organizations of the parish.

County Man Killed As Trucks Collide

Carl W. Spaitte, 34, of the Elkton Rd., RD, Columbiana, driving for the Herron Trucking Co. of Salem, burned to death in the head-on collision with another truck at 5 a. m. today on ice-covered Rt. 5, six miles east of Dunkirk, N.Y.

The other driver, Bruce B. McIntyre, 41, of Lorain, O., also perished in the crash.

Mr. Spaitte had been an employee of Herron Trucking Co. for only 10 days.

New York state troopers said the truck driven by Spaitte went out of control on a curve, veered across the highway and collided with McIntyre's vehicle.

Both trucks plunged down a small embankment into a vineyard and caught fire. The men were trapped in their cabs.

Spaitte was delivering a shipment from the Eljer plant here.

McIntyre was employed by the Auto Transportation Co., Lorain.

Spaitte was born in East Palestine on Nov. 12, 1924, the son of Bryan and Mabel Sheets Spaitte of 698 W. Martin St. He attended local schools and had been previously employed as an oiler for the Merle Burt Coal Co. near Rogers.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife, the former Betty Burt; two sons, Dennis and Robert; two daughters, Diane and Sheryl, all at home; one brother, Glenn Spaitte of Route 14, near East Palestine; and one sister, Er. Glenn Spaitte of Route 14, near Mrs. Park Grim of East Palestine.

Tomorrow they vote on an amended measure to permit quail hunting in Ohio.

Representatives today prepared criminal actions against six state prison inmates who grabbed six hostages and threatened to kill them in a two-hour reign of terror Saturday.

Steel-helmeted guards burst into the prison's metal shop to rescue the hostages who included Warden John A. Gavin and the Rev. Edward F. Hartigan, Catholic chaplain.

Nearly 100 state troopers gathered outside the prison. On a signal from Maj. Arthur J. O'Leary 25 troopers broke through seven windows and a door with orders to "shoot to kill."

The tough convicts gave up quickly when they saw the troopers armed with machine guns, riot guns, rifles, revolvers and tear gas bombs.

Moments earlier they had poured inflammable paint thinner over the hostages and threatened to set them afire. The convicts tied some of the hostages with wire and threatened them with knives.

Authorities identified the leader of the abortive breakout attempt as Martin F. Feeney, 43, of Boston. They said the others were Robert J. Savage, 29, of Brookline; Kenneth E. Abrahamson, 25, Russell T. Halladay, 30, George T. Harrison and Robert Howard, both 25.

All are serving long sentences—up to 55 years.

Held hostage with Warden Gavin and Father Hartigan were two deputy wardens, a guard and a gurd and a civilian storekeeper.

Surgery for 'Blue Baby' Financed by Thousands

CHICAGO (AP) — A little boy with an ailing heart who has a legion of friends with kind ones was in a Chicago hospital today awaiting surgery and a possible chance for a normal life.

His parents are optimistic the operation will be a success.

Among the prayers offered for David's recovery will be those by the thousands of residents of the San Francisco Bay area whose donations made the trip to Chicago and the operation possible. Their contributions of nearly $10,000 financed the trip and the operation, scheduled for Thursday.

David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stewart of Sharp Park, Calif., accompanied their son on a flight from San Francisco Sunday.

The plane was equipped with a special mask and two bottles of oxygen but the ailing boy did not need them.

A police escort arranged by the American Legion members took David to Children's Hospital from Midway Airport. Stewart, a Navy veteran, is a legionnaire.

"We are extremely grateful for the generosity of the people in California and for the kindness of those we have met in Chicago," said Stewart, 25, an insurance salesman.

Dr. Thomas G. Baffes, who developed the first surgical correction of one of the types of "blue baby" conditions known as transposition of the great vessels of the heart, will perform the operation. A successful operation would allow David to live a more normal life. However, he will require more surgery later.

Dr. Baffes said the odds are 6 to 1 in David's favor.

"If the operation fails," Stewart said, "we'll give what's left of the money to someone who might need it for the same trouble."

"But," he added firmly, "David will recover."

A young boy, alone in the basement of his home, cast about for a game to play. He decided on a make-believe hanging, but tragically, as he tumbled from a chair with a knotted clothesline around his neck, the pretense became reality, and the boy became Ohio's first accidental weekend fatality.

He died Friday night. By midnight Sunday, another seven had died accidentally, according to an Associated Press count, bringing the weekend total to six.

Traffic accidents claimed six lives and an accidental shooting the eighth.

The Fatalities Friday Night

Saturday
Garfield Harris, about 65, Cincinnati, when he walked into the path of a car in Springfield.

Oscar E. Rupp, 80, and his wife, Mary, 75, Cincinnati, when their car crashed into a utility pole in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Rose Craig, 55, Glouster (Athens County) died in Mt. St. Mary Hospital in Nelsonville of injuries received Saturday in an automobile collision on Ohio 13 near Glouster.

Kassem Regime Reports Rebel Leader Slain

Government Planes Bomb Northern Iraq Center of Uprising

BULLETIN
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iraqi nationalist rebels claimed today their army is marching on Baghdad to crush the Communist-influenced government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

DAMASCUS (AP) — The Iraqi Air Force today bombed the North Iraq center of an army rebellion against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's Communist-influenced regime. But the rebel radio continued to hurl defiance at the premier in Baghdad.

Broadcasts by the rebel radio in Mosul, the starting point of the revolt, and by the government station in Baghdad were the chief sources of information on the progress of the revolt. Conflicting claims alternated as the day advanced.

Claims Leader Slain
Kassem's regime in Baghdad claimed that the rebel leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, had been slain by his own men. A later rebel broadcast confirmed that government planes were bombing Mosul but said this would not interfere with rebel activities. It added that Shawaf was leading the struggle against Kassem.

A subsequent rebel broadcast told the Iraqi people not to believe the report of Shawaf's death.

"The revolution leader, Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, is still at the head of his troops to crush traitors and enemies of the people," it said. It added that the bombardment of Mosul "will not stop the revolution."

Denies Report of Death
Still later a man who said he was Shawaf went on the Mosul radio to deny he had been killed. He said all reports by Baghdad radio were "lies aimed at misleading the people" and that the "dictatorial rule of Kassem is about to collapse."

Both stations indicated, however

Man In Drag Race Injured As Car Upsets

One motorist was injured in one of four traffic accidents investigated on district highways over the weekend by state highway patrolmen.

Ross Harrold, 33, of Columbiana, who, the Patrol charged, had been drag racing with another man on County Line Road, suffered contusions of the right shoulder and arm after his automobile rolled over in a field at the intersection of the County Line Road and Route 7 north of Columbiana.

The accident occurred at 5:41 p.m. Saturday as Harrold was being chased by a state patrol cruiser which had spotted the drag race.

The victim, who was treated at Youngstown South Side Hospital, was arrested for reckless driving as was Robert Dutcher, 24, of East Palestine, who was involved in the drag race.

The Patrol reported that Harrold lost control of his car after he sped across heavily-traveled Rt. 7 without stopping. The vehicle upset in a nearby field.

Autos driven by Charles Gray, 21, of East Palestine and Clarence Clutter, 42, of Hammondsville, collided on Alternate Rt. 14, one half mile east of Washingtonville, at 1:40 p.m. Sunday. No one was hurt.

An auto driven by William Fultz, 26, of East Liverpool was sideswiped by an unknown vehicle on a curve along Rt. 170, three miles south of East Palestine, at 7:40 p.m. Saturday.

Jerry Molner, 55, of Columbiana, was unhurt when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a guard rail on Rt. 344, one tenth of a mile west of Columbiana, at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Patrolmen arrested Molner on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Desperado Slain By Police Chief

Death Climaxes Tri-State Manhunt

TRENTON, Ga. (AP)—A one-shot showdown with peace officers brought death to an Alabama convict at the end of one of the largest manhunts ever centered in the tri-state area of Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee.

Desperado William Smithers, 38, died in surgery at nearby Ft. Oglethorpe Hospital Saturday night a few hours after the police chief of this northwest Georgia mountain city sent a bullet into his shoulder.

Chief H. H. Hutchings and Sheriff Allison Bliven got on the convict's trail through a telephone tip. They found him in a field near U.S. 11 in the Wildwood community, just south of the Tennessee line and about 20 miles southwest of Chattanooga.

"Smithers drew a gun from under his coat," Hutchings said, "and stuck it in the sheriff's face."

"I beat him to it. Before he could pull the trigger, I shot him."

The single shot climaxed a hunt that began Thursday after Smithers, serving six robbery sentences, launched his bid for freedom near Birmingham.

The desperado overpowered Alabama highway patrolman Otto Dees who was taking him from Kilby Prison at Montgomery to Birmingham to stand trial on a pistol possession charge.

Smithers forced Dees and the driver of the patrol car, convict trusty Ted Easley, to go to a house he picked at random. There he made the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith, provide food. After that he switched to the Keiths' car and took the four persons with him as hostages.

Fourteen hours later he released them unharmed on Sand Mountain near Flat Rock, Ala.

Steel Output Sets All-Time Weekly High

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel output last week passed the 90 per cent of capacity mark and reached an all-time weekly high, "Steel" magazine reported today.

The previous weekly record of 2,525,000 tons was set Dec. 17-23, 1956. Last week, when operations gained 1.5 points to 90.5 per cent of capacity, the output was 2,562,000 net tons.

And that new record is unlikely to stand for long as the rush to buy steel continues, the weekly journal of metalworking said.

The swelling demand of customers seeking to hedge against a possible steel strike and subsequent price increase is generating its own growth, "Steel" said. This is because users are finding busy mills are slower in making deliveries, and inventories which were cut too sharply last year are insufficient to stand such delays.

Of the 12 steelmaking districts, only Cleveland, which was down 2 points, and Cincinnati, which was off a point, showed declines last week. Youngstown moved up three points to 91 per cent of capacity; Wheeling up two points to 93 per cent; Detroit up 4.5 points to 99.5 per cent; and Pittsburgh up two points to 91 per cent.

Scrap prices last week dropped 50 cents to $42.33 a gross ton for "Arwll's" composite on prime grades. Mills apparently are well stocked on scrap and are using more hot metal in steelmaking mix.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three times as many triplets—10 sets—have been born in New York City this year as in the same period most years and the New York City Health Department says nobody knows why.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall's condition remained unchanged and serious today at the Army hospital here. The 78-year-old soldier-statesman was hospitalized after a stroke Jan. 15, and suffered a second stroke Feb. 17.

SILENT AUDIENCE—These Antarctic penguins, perfectly at home on the ice, probably wondered what all the huffing and puffing was about when the U.S. Navy icebreaker Staten Island got trapped in the frozen Ross Sea. Veterans Guide

(By Veterans Administration)

Q—If I should add the total disability income rider to my GI insurance and later become disabled so I could not work, how much money would I receive?

A—You would receive, after you had been totally disabled for six months, income amounting to $10 a month for each $100 of your GI insurance. The maximum disability income is $100 a month.

Q—Is a veteran obliged to report disability compensation as income, in filing his federal income tax?

A—No. Disability compensation paid by the VA is not taxable, nor are other VA benefit payments.

Q—I am applying for a GI loan to buy a farm. Do I have to live on the farm to qualify for the loan?

A—No. You must, however, at least supervise the farming operations.

Q—The daughter of a neighbor of ours is a war orphan, with a physical handicap. Must she wait until her eighteenth birthday before she can begin training, under the War Orphans Education Act?

A—No. A law passed last year gave boys and girls with handicaps, who previously would have had to wait until their eighteenth birthday, the right to begin special types of War Orphans training when they reach age 14.

Every Home Owner Candidate For 'Order of Drain Cleaners'

Every man who takes unto himself a mortgage is a prime candidate for the Reluctant Order of Drain Cleaners.

The big jobs, one leaves to the professionals. The small stop-ages, one takes a whack at before unfolding the check book.

What you will need: A plumber's friend (a stiff rubber cup with a wooden broomstick-like handle).

The cup is about five inches in diameter, usually. Larger or smaller sizes are available. You'll need, too, a can of drain cleaner, a smooth-jaw wrench, a drain auger (snake) and a bucket. The plumber's friend will clear many clogged drains.

REGULAR USE ON DRAINS that are sluggish will keep them open.

The plunger can be used to remedy either a partially or completely clogged drain. There must be enough water in the fixture to cover the bottom part of the rubber cup. With a damp rag plug the overflow drain of sink or toilet.

Work the handle up and down slowly and evenly. The obstruction in the pipe will be broken by the alternate suction and compression. Continue the operation until the pipe is clear. Rinse the pipes clean with boiling water.

Sometimes, a sluggish flow of water can't be increased with use of a plunger.

In such a case, you will have to resort to a drain cleaner. There are many brands in the market. They should all be used with extreme care, as they usually contain a caustic substance.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS carefully. The dry chemical is generally poured directly into the drain and water is added. The addition of the water causes the mixture to boil and bubble.

Flush the pipes with plenty of cold water after the treatment is completed.

Keep the drain cleaner away from porcelain and painted surfaces.

Flush the pipes with plenty of cold water after the treatment is completed.

Keep the drain cleaner away from porcelain and painted surfaces.

Even more important—keep it away from yourself. Protect skin and eyes from splashes. Wear rubber gloves. Don't inhale fumes.

A totally clogged drain may not respond to the plumber's friend, and a large accumulation of water may make the drain cleaner impossible to use without siphoning or bailing out the water.

Place a pail beneath the trap—the U-shaped pipe under the fixture. If the trap has a plug, remove it. It's threaded and comes off easily with a wrench.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE a smooth jaw wrench, wrap plated fitting with electrician's tape to protect it.

If there is no plug, you will have to remove the trap. Remove the fittings and lift off the pipe. The opening can be cleaned out with a length of wire or the plumber's snake.

If you removed the trap, be sure to scrub it out before replacing.

The spring snake can also be used through the drain opening in the sink, but not as easily. Turn the handle as you work the snake through the pipe. A special snake, called a "closet auger," is used to clean toilet bowls.

If you take apart the trap, replace the gaskets before reassembling.

FREQUENT CLEANING plus a little caution about what goes down the drain should prevent trouble. Allow nothing but water to enter the drain. Install a strainer in the kitchen sink to prevent food particles from entering the pipes. Keep hair and lint out of the bathroom sink.

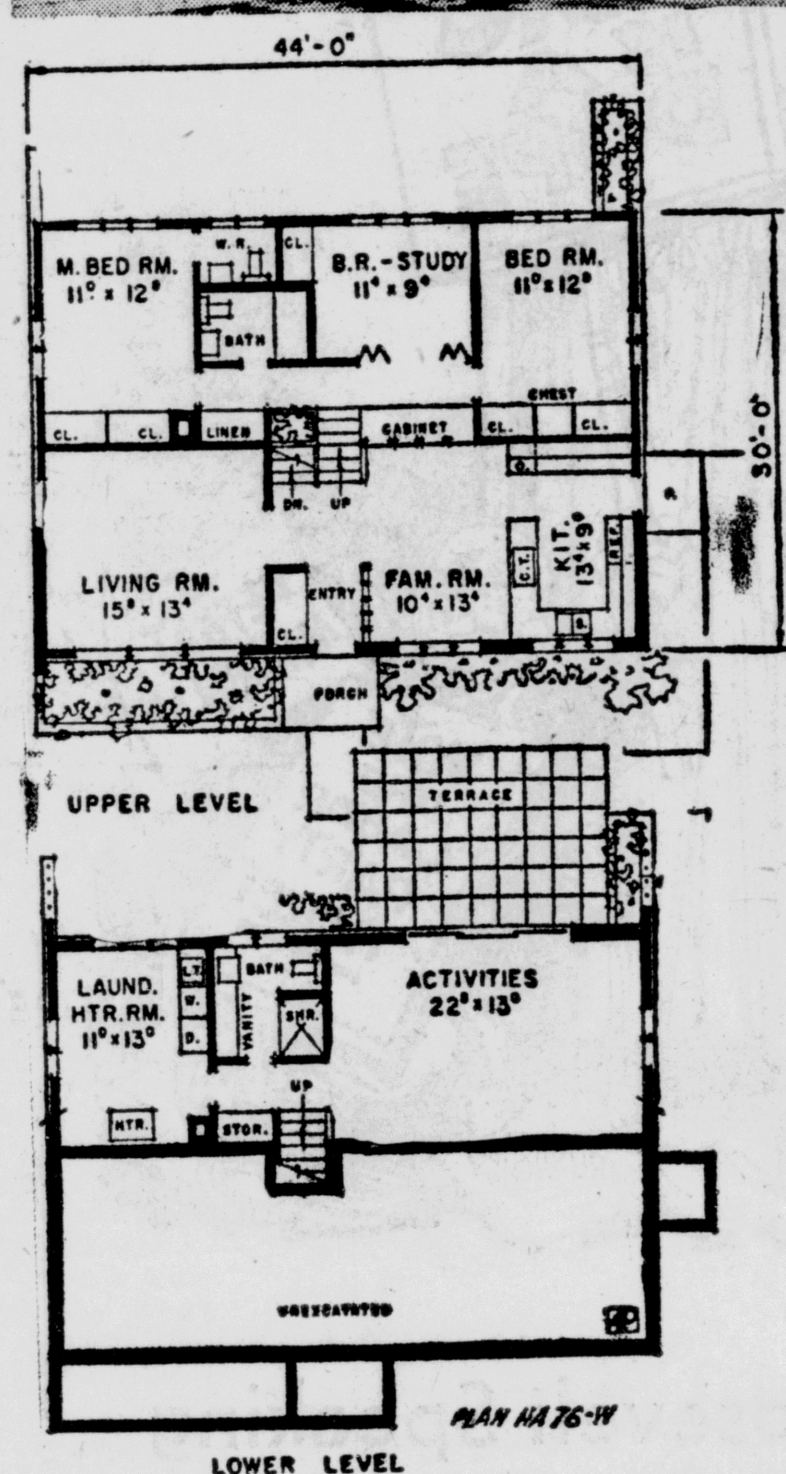

NOTE: While periodic treatment with drain cleaner will help keep pipes open, some authorities warn that it's not a good practice with copper pipes.

Boiling water poured into a drain will often help to dissolve some of the soap that coats the sides and builds up in thickness.

Decorators Tell How To Increase Space

Leading home decorators have hints to offer on how to visually enlarge that small room. First, say the experts, try to avoid arranging furniture around the perimeter of the room. Instead, place davenport and chairs for a diagonal otherroom; it's surprising how much view of the room; it's surprising how much space can be expanded by this simple rule.

Furniture styles also have much to do with the enlarging of a small room, decorators point out. Contemporary styles with clean, uncluttered lines take up less visually. However, because of their simplicity of line, contemporary pieces often need something more

BACK-TO-FRONT SPLIT—The three levels in this house each run full width, instead of the conventional split-level arrangement raising only one end of the home. There are three bedrooms, living, family room and kitchen on the upper levels, and an activities and laundry room on the lower level. The plan is HA76-W by Architect Clifford N. Wright, 1915 Schoolcraft Ave., Detroit 23, Mich. Habitable area of the upper levels is 1,320 square feet.

In the way of textured wall treatments. Thus, say the decorators, walls paneled with a handsome wood like vertical grain west coast hemlock are the ideal backdrop for the room, introducing warmth, texture, and elegance in one fell swoop.

Then too, the rich beauty of wood walls eliminates the "cubism" of a small room, and with finely grained, pale woods like hemlock, there's no worry about excess wall texture becoming overpowering.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: I plan on making a concrete walk this spring. Is it necessary to put down some kind of special base under the concrete? And will a concrete thickness of 4 inches be sufficient?

ANSWER: Generally, it is better to provide a base of 5 inches of gravel, crushed rock or cinders for the concrete. But where the soil is an area which usually drains off well, the walk can be laid right into the earth, compacted thoroughly until it is very firm. Four inches of concrete will make a strong walk. It must be an inch or two thicker where the concrete is occasionally crossed by automobiles.

QUESTION: You recently had a story about finishing fir plywood a mahogany color. I now plan to engage in a plywood project. I have never worked with this material in the past. Will I be able to cut it properly with a hand saw as I do not have a power saw?

ANSWER: Cutting plywood with a hand saw takes a lot more elbow grease than with a power saw, but that is, of course, true with any kind of wood. The important thing about cutting plywood with a hand saw is to keep the good side facing up when doing the cutting. Also, do not hold the saw at to sharp an angle. It should be held at a lower angle than ordinarily. Since you will be cutting through several layers of wood, with the grains running in different directions, it is especially vital that a sharp saw be used.

QUESTION: In driving nails through furring strips into studs, how long should the nails be?

ANSWER: This has been used as a rule-of-thumb for a long time: a nail should be three times as long as the width of the first piece of wood through which it is driven. Obviously, this can not be allowed in all cases, but where it can it should.

QUESTION: I have heard of many different ways to achieve an antique finish on wood, but none of them parallels a method my late grandfather used to employ. All I can remember about it is that he mixed a powder with water and then applied the mixture to the wood with a sponge. There was no rubbing, shading or anything like that. Can you tell me anything about this?

ANSWER: It is quite probable that your grandfather used potassium permanganate powder, which you can buy in most drug stores. One part of powder to about ten parts of water is the proper mixture. When applied, the mixture causes a chemical change in the wood that gives it an aged effect. I suggest you try it first on a piece of scrap wood to be sure the result is what you are trying to achieve.

QUESTION: I have just finished plastering a wall. How long must the plaster be allowed to dry out before painting?

ANSWER: Three or four weeks should be sufficient time. Professionals use a moisture meter in case of doubt. Try striking a match against the wall. If it does not light, the chances are drying has not been completed. You can, if you wish, put on a coat of latex paint, which allows evaporation to continue until the wall is completely dry. Later, if you wish, you can apply one or more coats of oil-based paint.

Now Is the Time to Prepare Vacation Cabin for Summer

Now is the time to prepare your vacation cabin for a soothing summer.

After the family and the guests take over, there will be little time for needed upkeep and repair. Simple steps taken now can save time and money—and reserve the summer for relaxation.

Nature carries on constant war against the buildings of man and is especially militant against dwellings not occupied the year around.

AIRING—The number one enemy of most summer homes is moisture in all of its many forms—rain, snow, vapor. It enters by many means—leaks, absorption, condensation. So on the first dry day open all the windows and doors to clear out moisture and mustiness. Open closets and cabinets so the fresh air can whisk away odor. Take mattresses and bedding outside for cleaning and airing in the sunlight.

ELECTRICITY—Check drop, or wires leading from pole to cabin.

Increase In Use Of Translucent Materials Foreseen

In Winchester, Mass., there is a home in which an entire 12-feet bathroom wall is translucent.

In Albuquerque, there is a home with a swimming pool in the living room, which is covered with a translucent roof.

In a number of homes in Florida (St. Lauderdale, Sarasota, Tampa and St. Petersburg), there are many skylights made from flat translucent panels rather than the conventional bulbous designs.

In Coshocton, Ohio, and Detroit, 8 foot-long translucent panels have been installed in more than 20 houses in place of the usual large picture windows.

And, in Stamford, Conn., the world's first all-translucent school will be completed sometime this year.

Translucent materials have been used for some time. But no project using these materials got more public attention than the United States Pavilion at the Brussels World Fair. This translucent-roofed building, turned over to the Belgian government after the fair closed, is filled with a soft, glareless light during the day.

Of the many variations of glass and plastic being used to achieve translucent effects, fiberglass is the most popular because it is both rugged and light in weight. The company which built the U.S. Pavilion's translucent roof says there are several secret processes involved in the fabrication of its panels, but has given out this information: white or tinted fiberglass sheets are bonded to both sides of a lightweight aluminum framework two to three inches thick. The powerful bending process produces a rigid panel that can be up to 20 feet or more in length.

Many architects believe the use of translucent materials will win more and more approval as familiarity with its light-controlling qualities increases.

for damage. See that all outside connections are tight, especially on main ground, the wire leading from service box to ground bar or water pipe. See that fuses are tight and of the right size. Disconnect all appliances and see that lights are off, then close main switch. A blown fuse indicates a short and movement of the meter a "leak" and may call for the services of an electrician, unless you know how to track down trouble by circuits.

PUMPS AND MOTORS—See that connections and mountings are tight. Sealed units require virtually no care. Lubricate others according to manufacturer's instructions.

WATER—Now the water can be turned on. There may be some discoloration, so let water run until clear. Broken pipes will make themselves all too evident with a spray of water. There may be slow leaks at connections with gaskets or packing, so allow time for swelling that will probably stop the drip. See that water traps on sewer and drains are filled so odors and gasses can't enter the cabin.

If the cabin doesn't boast a pressure water system, see that the natural supply is made safe. Clean out and portect springs and wells.

HEATING PLANT—Little to do here. The only real check comes from lighting up. If the chimney has been capped to protect against snow and rain, be sure to uncover before even thinking about a fire. See that no animal or birds has built a nest in the chimney and that no mortar has been lost.

ROOF—Check for loosened shingles and other signs of wind, snow and storm damage. Inspect valleys and gutters, clearing out leaves. Inside, check underside of roof for stains that indicate leaks.

STRUCTURAL—Don't panic if the windows and doors stick and DO NOT start whitening away. They are probably swollen by moisture and should be allowed plenty of time to dry.

GENERAL INSPECTION—After the specific checks are made, inspect the entire cabin, inside and out, to spot damage or things that MIGHT give trouble later on. List what you find.

REPAIRS—While the list is fresh, make needed repairs and do the necessary fixing up. Things left until vacation are likely never to get done.

PAINTING—If the weather permits, this is the time to get painting behind you too. Later your hand will probably be too occupied with fishing pole and lemonade glass.

Construct Boy's Room To Withstand Beating

Many's the decorator who's found himself slightly stymied in choosing the proper decor for her son's bedroom. Decorating a boy's room will pose no problems, however, if it is remembered that boys need a masculine flavor in their rooms and that indestructible walls, floors and furnishings are a must.

Latest wrinkle in wall treatments for a boy's room is to use rough-sawn western red cedar exterior siding as wall paneling. Rough cedar has a rugged quality that has immediate appeal to a boy. It's tough, too, and will take kicks and bruises with far more grace than perishable plaster or delicate paper.

Rough cedar tongue-and-groove paneling can be finished with clear rez to capture the wood's native ruddy brown coloring, or it will take interior stains if color is called for.

PROVIDES EXTRA SPACE

Wood frame walls, because they are less bulky than brick or concrete, actually provide extra living space inside the home. The buyer of a home 40 by 30 feet (outside dimensions) gains up to 40 square feet of interior space, says the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, when building his home with wood frame walls. That's enough for an extra bathroom, or two closets.

All Out of the Same Purse

A proper apology has been made to Ohio State University by Jerome Ellison, who confused it with Ohio University in the Saturday Evening Post, but there is much more to be considered here than an author's error.

It is to be hoped Ohio will consider the author's contention that money is being spent on facilities for higher education in many tax-supported colleges and universities that is not paying off in educational results because there are too many high-jinks and not enough study.

Whether one particular outburst of high-links in Ohio occurred at Ohio University or Ohio State University is immaterial. Both are tax-supported. The money is all out of the same purse.

Since this is budget time in Columbus and Ohio has six institutions of higher learning drawing on taxpayers for support, it is timely to be reminded that Bowling Green, Kent, Miami, Ohio University, Ohio State University and Central State College are in the budget for close to 99 1/2 million dollars—considerably less than they requested for the biennium but 100 million dollars to all intents and purposes.

This is a major item. It justifies major curiosity about educational policy—not that one article in one magazine has raised questions that no one ever raised before but that the author, who is on the faculty of Indiana State University, has raised questions that everybody has a right to raise when tax money is being spent.

Is there something wrong with admittance standards and performance requirements in tax-supported schools that may be causing taxpayers to put out substantial sums of money for the sake of education that simply cannot be shown to be producing any real education because "students" are not being required to do any real work?

Ohio taxpayers do not care whether there was a minor mixup in the identity of one of their tax-supported schools. They have a powerful financial reason to wonder if Jerome Ellison's question: "Are We making a Playground Out of College?" can be answered No in the case of Ohio's tax-supported colleges.

cal every man in a position of trust would be required to choose whether his master would be the public and if so to forswear all others while in public office.

It goes without saying that such a proposal will find scant favor in a General Assembly heavily populated with members who do not think of their legislative duty as a major interest in view of the fact it takes a minor part of their time. But it also goes without saying that members of the General Assembly and all other Ohio officials now know what the official climate is.

"I said in my State of the State message," Gov. DiSalle recalled, "that it was my hope that we could develop an 'esprit de corps,' a price in being affiliated with public service. This we can accomplish in part by establishing high standards of conduct; stand-establishing high standards of conduct; stand-that will assure the individual's complete devotion to his primary obligation to the state."

The first time Gov. DiSalle has occasion to preach a sermon to a wayward state employee, the text is already written.

throw the mirror out the window and carry out the mattress.

It's good to know they do not have one of their kind in the White House. If it's going to be a case of who cracks first, Ike or Nikita, we'll take Ike at 10-1.

For Cleaner Streets

City Council's plans to issue bonds to finance the purchase of a mechanical street sweeper and a grader will be done so at no cost to the taxpayers. And, acquisition of the sweeper is expected to prove more economical than the present system of haphazard street cleaning.

Because the city has sufficiently reduced its bonded debt inside the 10 mill limitation, new bonds can be issued. It is only bond issues outside the legal limit that are assessed against tax duplicates.

The Manufacturers Association and the Chamber of Commerce have urged time and again that the city acquire a mobile sweeper, pleading for cleaner Salem streets. Service Director Harry Vincent has advocated the equipment but the city has lacked the necessary funds.

Both the manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce have complained that local streets too often are littered with debris which manual labor found it hard to cope with. With the new equipment, it is hoped that Salem residents can point with pride to any stranger about our clean streets, and that should include all sections of the city.

Once Over

Survey shows doctors, always telling patients they must get more rest and checkups, brush off their own advice. Less than half had undergone checkup in the last year and a half. Twenty per cent hadn't had one in four years.

Patients suffering from strain are being treated by doctors in worse shape than they are. They are taking advice "You have to relax more" from physicians asleep on their feet from exhaustion.

THOUSANDS RUSH to doctors' offices these days where a dozen rushed in bygone days. The result is that offices are so crowded it is easier to get a seat at the World Series.

Some patients feel they have been around the office longer than the magazines. Doctors are putting in more hours than overtime factory workers. Appointment means little. You can get there at 1 p.m. and still be waiting for your turn at dinner time.

Doctors are using the multiple-room or chute-the-chute system to keep patients from getting uneasy. The nurse shunts them into the doctor's presence a few yards at a time. There should be a referee calling "Second down, five yards to go." You can always tell the physician from the patients. (The doctor is the pale one, with the baggy eyes.) If he looks healthy he must be so young he hasn't built up a practice yet.

We went to see our doctor yesterday. From a casual look it was clear he was in worse shape than the last time, which was pretty bad.

Our diagnosis was that he was suffering from rapid pulse, heart murmur, occupational indigestion, high tension, galloping nervousness, lack of sleep and a chronic case of not knowing when he had had enough.

We calmed him down with a tranquilizer and prescribed six different vitamins, two tired-blood remedies, one fishing rod, a box golf balls and four winter vacation pamphlets to be taken after every meal and between patients.

IN SENTENCING DAVE BECK to five years in hoosegow the judge excoriated him as "cheating every last humble American taxpayer." Beck began as a laundry wagon driver. Wonder what his reply was in those days to customers' squawks, "Hey, one of my shirts is missing."

Stick-up and frisking of passengers in crowded bus in Jersey was in the manner of the Old West, and we hear a kid passenger, who follows TV westerns, piped, "Mommer, where are their horses?" They say the bus driver exclaimed, as the bandits fled, "With all that nerve it's a wonder they didn't ask for a transfer."

ALBIE BOOTH, dead at 51, was the most exciting football broken field runner this writer ever saw. He went through teams like an eel through a torn net. He was "Little Boy Blue," the "Mighty Mite" and he was greased lightning. "Had he been surrounded by personnel like the Notre Dame squads he would have gained fame with Grange and Thorpe," said Tim Cohane. Booth was the son of a gunshop foreman. He learned his football on the sandlots and came to Yale glory the hard way.

A Little Unofficial Electioneering?

Eleanor Roosevelt Speaking

By Westbrook Pegler

Eleanor Roosevelt's devotees write the most abusive letters that I have ever received, but I stand my ground, conscientiously opposing a hallucination that seems to me to have done us great moral and political harm.

Her fantastic energy now commands almost as much attention, even awe, as her audacity in presuming to high authority without ever having run for even the humblest office. But at last she has discredited herself around the edges, running into resistance in quarters where hitherto invariably she was revered.

Her TV commercial for a food product drew startling reproof. In the legislature of the absolutely democratic state of New Mexico where she had been barnstorming in person, she was rejected in terms amounting to insult. And, probably most important of all her reverses, she and Herbert Lehman, the decrepit, retired senator, were beaten very badly by Carmine De Sapio of Tammany Hall and Mayor Robert Wagner.

Mrs. Roosevelt also had undertaken to rule out Jack Kennedy for 1960, but Kennedy's publicity immediately claimed, probably with fair justification, that he was now the leading young democrat in certain "polls." He plainly has thrived on her opposition.

MAYOR WAGNER's adherence to De Sapio is significant too because his father, the late Tammany senator, was a slave of Mrs. Roosevelt's late husband. On the issue of the smoke-filled room, which was cited to discredit De Sapio, familiars of the Roosevelt reign immediately recalled, at Satan's prompting, that Francis Perkins, his secretary of labor, set it down for history in her book that Roosevelt chose Henry Wallace, of all men, for vice president in 1940 and, moreover, made the choice by phone to her in these words: "Yes, I guess it will be Wallace."

And so it was Wallace and only Eleanor's own physical presence beside him saved Wallace from physical violence as he stood dribbling and flapping his flippers on the speakers' platform in the Chicago Stadium.

As to the oleomargarine commercial, done for pay by Mrs. Roosevelt, Ben Gross of the New York Daily News wrote: "It's a mistake. Speaking purely personally, I think that for a public figure of her prestige to lend her name to this kind of commercial venture is harmful not only to herself but to broadcasting as a whole." Mr. Gross then fell for the old fable that she always gave such honoraria to charity, which, of course, is a culpable mistake of the press in general.

THE NEW YORK TIMES' TV columnist, Jack Gould, wrote: "The sight of her raising her eyes to the camera and linking her concern for the world's needy with the sale of a food product at the retail counter was disgusting in the extreme." This nubbin was swathed in layers of flatters weft of nothing more honorable as journalism than the adulation that defiles most discussion of this occult politician.

But the Hollywood reporter flippantly said, "Yodel for the widow, FDR. Tune the trumpet and tambourine. Move over, Dinah and Steverine. Pass the atropine, Ern estine. Eleanor's gonna make a scene. Plugging oleomargarine. Oleoleanor margarine!"

Most comment assumed that she had never done the like before, but a new generation has arisen since she used the State Department to gather a big fee for plugging the coffee trade for South American nations.

The Chicago Tribune, under no compulsions, said: "We are hardly surprised that she would take the fee. Since Jimmy was cashing in on the White House connection as an insurance salesman, Elliott was playing John Hartford for a $200,000 sucker and their father was picking up die proofs of new stamps from his postmaster general for his $250,000 collection, the family has always looked to itself."

The AP reported from Santa Fe, N. M., that the state house of representatives "heatedly rejected a message from Mrs. Roosevelt and Herbert Lehman" about right to work.

Rep. Albert Matlock said, "I resent such a reading (of the message)" and added, "I move that it be burned."

Berlin Crisis Running True To Form

The Berlin crisis is running true to form. Just as it appears to be coming to a climax that could mean war, the Soviet bluffer-in-chief retreats a bit. This is the art of m a n e u v e r i n g, which is historically known as dict a t o r s h i p d i p l o m a c y.

The Soviet ruler now says that the May 27 deadline on forcing Western troops out of Berlin can be moved forward if "sensible negotiations" are under way with the Western powers. Prime Minister Macmillan is hailed as having won this important "concession" from Khrushchey during his recent visit to Moscow.

The moves in the chess game are all too palpable. The British prime minister has said that the West might even be willing to pull some of its troops away from West Germany provided the Russians pulled away from East Germany. This is a form of "disengagement" which has been debated for many months. In essence, it means a retreat and withdrawal by the West in the face of Soviet pressure. It may not make the West Germans happy but it satisfies the peace-at-any-price sentiment inside Britain, where the British prime minister faces political opposition from the appeaser group all the time.

MEANWHILE, President Eisenhower at his press conference last week was careful not to criticize the British prime minister's mission or its results because, after all, the purpose of the visit was solely to elicit information as to the Kremlin ruler's attitude rather than to reach agreements. As a piece of probing of the other side's intentions it was to some degree successful.

Mr. Macmillan can also retreat if need be when he finds the American, French and West German view to be in accord with the military recommendations of Gen. Norstad, commander of the NATO forces.

Military men of the West don't think it helps the morale of their forces to be withdrawing Allied troops from West Germany under pressure from Moscow.

Coincidentally in this country, the secretary of defense, Neil McElroy, at a news conference gave the impression that, far from retreating, the United States intends to advocate resistance by force should there be any attempt to compel the Allied troops to get could avoid involving Russian forces," and that it would be "very difficult to keep at a limited war."

West's Two Victories

By JAY G. HAYDEN

Nikita Khrushchey's back-and-forth verbal gymnastics during the visit to Russia of Prime Minister Macmillan have largely obscured two developments greatly favorable to the anti-Communist cause.

First, Britain and Egypt have formally resumed relations, both diplomatic and economic, after a three-year break begun by Gamal Abdel Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal and intensified by the abortive British-French-Israeli attempt to reverse that action by armed force.

Second, the Island of Cyprus has finally attained political independence with two effects greatly important to the NATO Alliance for defense of Western Europe and the Near East against Communism.

Britain has gained undisputed title to naval and air bases on Cyprus, its last remaining military stronghold in the eastern Mediterranean. And a savage feud between the United States' two most important Middle East allies, Greece and Turkey, has been amicably resolved.

THE BRITISH-EGYPTIAN settlement is peculiarly a triumph for the Eisenhower administration which, from the day the Suez fighting ended, has labored without stint to bind up the resultant wounds.

American cash and know-how combined to clear obstructions from the Suez Canal many months earlier than had been generally predicted. And settlements of first French and then British claims resulting from the Canal seizure were negotiated by Eugene Black, American president of the World Bank.

The British-Egyptian settlement is the more important in that it comes at a time when Russia, from wholly unrelated causes, has been losing favor in Egypt and most other Arab countries.

The Egyptian press, after three years of attack on the United States and Great Britain for oil-lubricated imperialism, just now is directing its assaults against Russia in Iraq.

The Russians were charged with tolerating, if not engineering, the immigration of several thousand Romanian Jews into Israel. Because the Arabs fear a population-packed Israel might burst its borders, they have pressured Russia into promising that the immigration will cease.

He added that "We do not see ourselves fighting Russia" in anything that could be called a small war. out of Berlin in violation of the existing four-power wartime agreement.

Mr. McElroy said frankly that, if fighting breaks out over Berlin, he doesn't "quite see how you

THE SECRETARY also remarked that, while there would be reluctance to use nuclear weapons, they certainly would be used if necessary but that he hoped that the friction over Berlin "would not get to the point where that kind of war action would be required."

So from one side comes the usual pressure to win concessions by threat - of - war and bluff tactics. From the other side comes the firm language of potential resistance so that the Soviets will not miscalculate and, in the belief that there would be no resistance at all, take some step that would bring on war.

One reason for the cockiness of the Soviets is the reported belief in the Kremlin that the American people voted against the Eisenhower administration in the 1958 elections and that in 1960 a Democratic administration is coming into power which will be favorable to Moscow.

This impression has been given by the public utterances of some Democratic members of Congress but it by no means reflects accurately the overwhelming sentiment of the Democratic party. There is every reason to believe that the majority in Congress are behind the administration in its firm policy.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S call of congressional leaders to a White House conference Friday to discuss the Berlin problem is designed, as was the National Security Council meeting last week, to disabuse the minds of the Russians that the American government is disunited on its policy of potential resistance to any forced withdrawal of Allied troops from Berlin.

There is, moreover, in Moscow at the moment the mistaken belief that the British viewpoint may tend to diverge from the American. This, too, is a fallacy, for, when the chips are down, it is most likely that the Western Allies will be found united.

In the face of such unity, the Soviet government may content itself with handing over paper sovereignty to the East German government and then asking the United Nations to settle the status of Berlin.

Such a development, while inconclusive, could at least avert a war and leave the ultimate disposition of Berlin to be negotiated over a long period of time.

The New York Herald-Tribune

chine also is accusing the new Iraqi government of subservience to Communism.

When the revolution last July eliminated the pro-British and pro-American government of King Faisal and Premier Nuri Es-said, it was generally assumed that the succeeding regime would fall in with Nasser's plan for Arab unity. However, the new Iraqi ruler, Gen. Abdul Karim El - Kassem, has grown steadily away from cooperation with Nasser and latterly has seemed to be drifting instead toward reliance on Communists, including acceptance of military assistance from Russia.

American experts have no doubt as to prime Minister Kassem's distaste for any knuckling down to Nasser. But there is less acceptance of the notions either that Kassem is trending toward Communism or that he is anti-Western.

Kassem's main source of government revenue still is his nation's oil production, conducted mainly by the British. Until now that relationship has continued without visible conflict.

The British and American governments are at least hoping that Kassem's cozying up to Russia is mainly for the purpose of scaring off aggression by Egypt. And the Anglo-Saxon oil merchants are doing their level best to keep the Iraqi ruler financially content.

So They Say

I have no intention to avoid a discussion (on the Berlin situation), I have no intention to bring it up. — U.N. Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjöld on his planned visit to Moscow.

As far as I am concerned there is enough blame for our past defeats to go around for all of us (Republicans). We must now revitalize the party . . . from the bottom up.

—Vice President Nixon.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

3 Mahoning 4-H Club Youths Share Honors

Three Mahoning County 4-H club members received the Junior Leadership Honor Award at the Ohio State Youth Center at Columbus Saturday.

Dairy Barn Tour Planned March 19

The first stop of the Mahoning County dairy barn tour Thursday, March 19, will be at 1 p.m. at the Paul Nichols farm on Route 46, one mile south of Route 165.

Mr. Nichols constructed a building in 1958 which provides facilities for heated down draft crop drying in wagons.

The second stop will be at the Clark Brothers dairy farm south-east of Petersburg in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania.

C. D. McGrew and Ken Battles, Ohio Extension dairy and agriculture engineer specialists, will accompany the tour and participate in the discussions.

Muscular Dystrophy Victim Meets Heroes

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Gilbert Schoelling, 15, dying of muscular dystrophy and pneumonia, met his heroes in person Sunday.

He looked out of his oxygen tent and a smile split his face when he saw movie star Pat O'Brien, actor Jimmy Bryan and television actor Tris Coffin.

They were old friends to Gilbert. He had watched them often on TV. He told his best friend, Sheriff's Dep. Jerry Centner, he'd like to have them come to see him.

Centner said that turned out to be no problem.

O'Brien handed the youth a baseball autographed by all the Boston Red Sox, training at near-by Scottsdale.

Gilbert thought it was great but he said a little wistfully, "I wish it had come from my own San Francisco Giants."

The veteran actor choked off tears later when he said, "I came to give the kid a lift and instead he gave me one. I have four of my own but I felt he was one of them."

Bryan left a model of the racer in which he won the 1958 Indianapolis 500-mile.

Coffin, star of TV's "26 Men," the story of the Arizona Rangers, left a marshal's star and autographed pictures.

WCTU Hears Book Review, Reports

A brief sketch of early temperance movements in the United States was included when the Rev. Constance Gough reviewed the book, "Shadow Over America," for members of the Salem Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the Tuesday meeting in the Memorial Building.

As far back as 1790 the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons presented to the United States Senate a memorandum against the use of spirits, according to the author of this book John D. Freeman, the Rev. Gough said.

In 1830 there were more than a thousand temperance societies in the nation. At that time the Chickasaw Indian tribes adopted the first prohibition law. The national WCTU was organized in 1874, she said.

Mrs. James Filler gave a talk on candles. Miss Pearl Walker gave the devotional talk on "What Is Prayer?" and Mrs. W. T. Dick gave the prayer.

The measure to substitute life imprisonment for the death penalty in first degree murder cases receives a third hearing in the House Judiciary Committee Wednesday. Opponents are scheduled to testify.

House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) said at least a half dozen measures would be placed on the House calendar for a vote on the floor during the week.

Senators also expect to act on a number of measures now that the deadline for introduction of bills is past. New proposals now can be offered only if members in either house agree to suspension of rules. When the deadline fell Thursday, a record 1,589 bills were in the legislative hopper, 250 more than the 1957 high.

Macmillan

agreed that they must stand firm against Khrushchev's threat to push the Western Allies out of West Berlin. But they still must work out proposals with which to counter the Soviet threat to write a separate peace treaty with East Germany and give the East German regime control of the Allied supply routes to Berlin.

One of the biggest problems facing Macmillan is the doubt in the minds of Adenauer and De Gaulle about his views on arms reduction in central Europe.

Agree on Negotiations
At the conclusion of their Moscow talks, Macmillan and Khrushchev agreed that negotiations on reduction of both conventional and nuclear arms in a zone through central Europe might produce a start toward disarmament. This smacks to the French and West German governments of disengagement, the proposal to withdraw all forces a certain distance back from both sides of the Iron Curtain. Both Adenauer and De Gaulle oppose any such idea.

In West Germany, meanwhile, the news that Socialist party chairman Ollenhauer had accepted an invitation to meet Khrushchev caused a sensation.
It was the Soviet leader's first face-to-face encounter with a leading West German politician since Adenauer's visit to Moscow in 1955.

Ollenhauer, a staunch anti-Communist, announced he had informed West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano before accepting the invitation.

The West German Socialists agree with Adenauer's rejection of the Soviet proposals to drive the Allies out of West Berlin and impose a peace treaty on divided Germany. But they favor a neutralized, unified Germany while Adenauer wants to keep any new Germany firmly allied with the West.

Khrushchev also was deep in conference with the East German leaders on the peace treaty he has promised them if the Western Allies hold to their refusal to get out of West Berlin.

that army officers considered sympathetic to President Nasser of the United Arab Republic were trying to topple Kassem, who headed the army revolt against the pro-Western monarchy last July.

Baghdad radio first claimed that Shawaf was fleeing toward the Syrian border, and promised a $28,000 reward for him dead or alive.

The rebel radio in turn said still later that Kassem's regime had "almost collapsed." There was no mention of anything happening to Shawaf.

A government broadcast said loyal troops were in complete control of Mosul. "These are our loyal troops and people," the rebel radio replied. "They now control Mosul and soon will control Baghdad."

Temper Earlier Claims
At the same time the Mosul radio appeared to temper earlier claims that the rebels controlled all of north Iraq. A broadcast appealed to army units in the north Iraq oil center of Kirkuk as well as in the capital to aid in "destroying the tyrant Kassem."

Quoting the military governor general of Iraq, Ahmed Saleh El-Abadi, Baghdad radio said Shawaf has been killed by his own officers and soldiers after his headquarters, presumably in Mosul, was bombed by the Iraqi air force.

"The situation is quiet all over Iraq and security prevails," the government radio said.

Salem Corrals Chaney 54-51 To Win District Title

Deitch's 19 Sets New Season High; Quakers Play Lincoln In Kent Regional Wednesday

By GORDON ARNDT

A game and determined band of Salem Quakers, although behind once by nine points, battled back furiously with a tenacious heart and fighting spirit to whip the Youngstown Chaney Cowboys 54-51 in the district Class AA finals Saturday night at the South High fieldhouse before a record-breaking crowd of 3,870 bewildered fans.

The victory, Salem's 22nd in 23 starts and 19th straight, advanced the Red and Black into the "Sweet 16" class and this week's regional tournament at the Kent State University field house.

The locals will battle Canton Lincoln Wednesday night at 8 in the opening semi-final match while on Thursday at 8 p.m. The Akron Central Wildcats take on New Philadelphia.

Lincoln beat Canton McKinley 54-48 in the Canton district tournament while Central ran over Kent Roosevelt 70-45 in the Kent district finals and New Philly whipped Steubenville 74-66 in overtime in the New Concord district.

THE WINNER in Saturday's final match will join regional champions from Berea, Toledo and Cincinnati in the state finals on March 20-21 in Columbus.

Saturday's "dream" game between the two northeastern Ohio powers had all the thrills and spills the jammed pack house expected. Several hundred fans were turned away an hour and one-half before the game started. Three hundred fans were present at 5 p. m. when the gates opened some three hours and 15 minutes before game time. A few Quaker followers were in Youngstown at 4 p. m. to assure themselves a seat for a tilt which was billed as "the game" in this area as early as two months ago.

SALEM HAD six heroes in their victory but three of their cagers stood out in particular as the ones who turned the tide in the Quakers' favor in the final three minutes and 12 seconds.

They were Woody Deitch, Dave Hunter and Lou Slaby. Salem led only three times in the game but when they went in front for the third time it was for good.

Clark Avery of Chaney hit a jump shot with 4:13 left which put the Cowboys on top 47-46.

With the loyal Quaker fans believing at the top of their lungs the complexion of the game changed faster than a shift in a strong March wind.

Chaney was on the attack with their one point margin when Deitch stole the ball from the Cowboys' 6-7 Ron Sabo. The speedy 6-11 in front drove the length of the floor and flipped a pass to Krichbaum. He tossed it to Hunter who scored from underneath to give the Red and Black a 48-47 margin with 3:12 left.

EOGE SIMSTAD'S Youngstown city champions fought gallantly with a deliberate attack but Salem got possession after a close missed shot. With 1:41 remaining Slaby worked himself loose in close and took a sharp pass from Clyde Marks to put Salem in front 50-47.

Marks took a sharp pass from Clyde Marks to put Salem in front 50-47. The Quakers weren't finished either. Twenty-four seconds later Hunter went on a dribbling exhibition amid three Cowboys. He faked once, twice and finally drove in between two other Chaney men to tally on a spectacular layup to pad Salem's margin to 52-47 with 1:17 left.

The bewildered Cowboys, who had led for almost the entire contest, began rattled and unorganized at finding themselves behind by five points so late in the game.

THE CHANEY club missed another shot and Salem was on the attack again with their freezing-like tactics. This time it was Deitch who dribbled around the Cowboys like a fly eluding a would-be assailant. He got open and flipped an all-important pass to Slaby underneath. The big 6-4 Quaker board man scored again and the locals led 54-47 with 0:57 remaining.

The points by Slaby culminated an eight-point spree for the winners within a span of two minutes and 15 seconds. This was the Sunday punch that decked the Cowboys.

Avery came back with two fouls and Marty Pesut a jump shot with 14 seconds left but time had run out on the Cowboys.

The Youngstowners ended the season with a 21-2 record and had a 15-game skein halted.

DEITCH was high man for Salem with 19 while Slaby had 15 and Hunter 12. Deitch's effort gave him 405 for the season which eclipsed the former one season high of 401 set by Dick Hunter in 1955-56.

Avery collected 16 for Chaney while Pesut had 11 and Sabo 10. Salem made 20 of 53 shots for 37.8 per cent and Chaney hit on 20 of 49 for 40.8 per cent. From the foul line is where the Quakers won the game in scoring. They hit 14 of 22 and Chaney 11 of 15.

Slaby and Marks each hauled in 10 rebounds for the winners.

Chaney took a quick 6-0 lead over Salem in the first minute of play on goals by Sabo, Avery and Dave Baker. Deitch hit a foul for Salem with 6:53 left to open the winners scoring.

Salem's first field goal came at the 6:27 mark on a follow-up by Slaby. With Sabo and Baker showing up inside screens for Sabo, top 13-5 with 4:55 left.

BOTH TEAMS pressed full court and attacked fast on offense. The Quakers got few shots in the early stages while Chaney was setting up inside screens for Sabo.

The Quakers appeared a bit unorganized at the outset and switched from a man to man defense into a zone with five minutes remaining in the opening stanza.

Chaney kept the pressure on Salem here as Pesut, Avery and Ernie Neal all tallied for the Cowboys. After the first frame it was 21-15 for Chaney.

At the 7:22 mark of the second quarter Sabo obtained his fourth personal foul and was replaced by Bruce Osbourne. Chaney led at the time 23-15.

The Cowboys got more deliberate on offense with Sabo out and combined with the Quakers' blocking up the middle. Chaney's offense slowed a little.

Sparked by six points by Deitch, Salem came storming back and at the 3:48 mark in the frame Chaney led 27-26.

However, Pesut and Avery canned shots for the Simstad squad and at the half Chaney was on top 32-29.

NO ONE moved from their seats at the intermission. There was no room to do so. Fans were crowded in the aisles, at either end of the fieldhouse and even were seated in a perimeter around the edge of the playing floor.

At the half fans threw paper on the floor and booed the officials unmercifully. The whistle tooters were Mike Maro and Chuck Varner. The pair couldn't win and no matter what the call was, they were crucified by the opposing side.

Marks scored two fouls and the score became 32-31 for Chaney with 7:07 left in the third quarter.

The contest went back and forth on a see-saw basis for most of the frame. Salem controlled its defensive board but not its offensive backboards.

Chaney continued its screening-type offense for Baker and Pesut while Salem worked against its foes' zone by working Hunter and Krichbaum loose underneath.

SLABY AND Deitch matched Pesut and Avery in scoring and with 1:18 left the Cowboys led 41-39.

Eighteen seconds later Salem scored on a jump shot by Deitch to move into a 41-41 tie. With the clock showing 0:33 in the frame Hunter canned a jump shot and Salem led 43-41 for the first time in the game.

Deitch came back with a foul at 0:14 to put the Quakers into the lead 44-41 at the end of the frame. Sabo replaced Osbourne at the 3:12 mark in that canto for Osbourne after sitting out 12 minutes and 10 seconds of action. Slaby picked up his fourth personal at the 0:44 mark of the third frame but he and Sabo still didn't eventually foul out.

The fourth frame was one in which every fan there will remember. The Cowboys continued to harass, lasso and brand the Quakers with their ball-hawking. With

4:14 left Avery put Chaney ahead 47-46 just after Deitch had put Salem on top for the second time 46-45 with 4:45 remaining.

Both clubs played a very deliberate and freezing type game in the final quarter. Each made only 10 points.

Both teams were attempting to run out the clock when they were ahead along with trying to foul out both Slaby and Sabo.

With 3:12 left the Quakers finally reared up and shook off the Chaney-rider. Hunter hit from under for a 48-47 Salem margin. Before Salem stopped they had scored six more points in the next two minutes and 15 seconds to completely rattle and disorganize the Cowboys.

SALEM'S STAMINA and determined brand of playing paid off.

They continued throughout the game to stay with Chaney and to wear the Cowboys down. They did, too, in the last three minutes with their eight-point rebellion which overthrew Chaney.

The remarkable thing about Salem's district playing was that they had only one practice this past week. With the three seniors out with the flu, they were limited in their rehearsals. It took them three minutes to score against Wilson last Friday and 29 minutes to finally get rolling over Chaney.

THE SALEM DRESSING ROOM after the game was a madhouse. Players, fans and parents were slapping each other on the back and raising general hilarity.

Bob Heddleston, a member of the Salem Board of Education, remarked "this is the greatest thing towel the way I did, we'd have never made it."

Someone remarked the boys won it for Fred Cope, the Salem athletic manager. Cope is recovering in the Central Clinic from surgery. He can now see his club in action at Kent.

Before the game a telegram was delivered to the Quaker locker room. It measured 30 feet in length and had nearly 1,000 names on it from different Quaker fans.

The victory marked the first time in 13 years that Salem has advanced out of district play into the regionals.

All tickets allocated Salem for Wednesday's game have already been sold out through previous ticket orders. Adults may purchase tickets at the gate. Some 4,000 general admission tickets for $1 will go on sale when the doors open at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Student tickets for $1 may be obtained at the high school here. Persons holding tickets at Fishers and Heddlestons should pick them up prior to 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Hockey Teams Scramble for Second Place

By The Associated Press
With two weeks remaining in the regular National Hockey League schedule, a merry scramble is being set up for second place among the Chicago Black Hawks, Boston Bruins and New York Rangers.

The Black Hawks have dropped three straight games and their hold on second place is shaky. The Canadiens defeated Chicago 2-1 Sunday night on Phil Goyette's goal in the third period. The fourth place Rangers had drubbed Chicago 6-1 Saturday in a nationally televised game.

The Rangers kept up their hot pace Sunday night by downing the Detroit Red Wings 4-2.

Giants Beaten 3-2 by Indians

Pirates, Yankees, Orioles Winners

The word floating back and forth between the Arizona Cactus and the Florida citrus is that the San Francisco Giants could win the National League pennant this year if . . .

The if is another right-handed pitcher. His name is Gene Conley and at the moment he is performing for the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn. and carrying on side feud with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves don't like the idea of their chattel playing basketball when he could be working out with the club, for which he didn't win a game last year.

He is trade bait, and the Giants have admitted they've reached the talking stage of a deal for the lanky right-hander. But so far the asking price has been too high.

A case in point happened Sunday when the Cleveland Indians licked the Giants, 3-2, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Paul Giel forced in the winning run in the eighth inning by walking pitcher John Briggs. Vic Power, who had opened the inning with a triple, scored and that was the ball game.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, another sleeper in the NL, scored their second victory over the champion Milwaukee Braves, a 2-1, decision at Bradenton, Fla. Bob Porterfield, Don Rowe and Laurin Pepper combined to hold the Braves to four hits. Both Pirate runs were unearned.

The world champion New York Yankees held hitless for seven innings outlasted the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 in 11 innings at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Elsewhere on the exhibition circuit, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Kansas City A's, 3-2, in 14 innings at Miami; the Washington Senators eked out an 8-7 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in 11 innings at Lakeland, Fla.; the Boston Red Sox won 12-8 from the Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz.; the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3, at Clearwater, Fla., and the Chicago White Sox stopped the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, at Tampa, Fla.

CLEVELAND COACH DIES
CLEVELAND (AP) — Ed Modderick, 38-year-old football coach at Cleveland Heights High School, died Sunday night after a long illness. He had been bedridden the last five months. He coached for three years at Cleveland Heights, and before that had coached basketball at Cleveland Holy Name High School.

United, Columbiana Beaten In Canton District Finals

Northwestern 79-44 Victor

Columbiana Is 70-61 Loser to Braceville Sports Event Is Held At Fairfield School

United Local's Golden Eagles and the Columbiana Clippers were both eliminated from the Canton Class A district tournament Saturday night. United, the state's 7th ranking club, got beat by the defending champ, Northwestern, 79-44. While the Clippers took a 70-61 defeat from Braceville.

United ended the year with a 20-3 record and Columbiana at 12-10.

Dean Chance, a 6-3 senior, equalled the output of the entire United team as he tossed in 44 points in leading the Huskies to their overwhelming win. He hit on 18 of 29 shots from the field and 8 of 10 foul chances.

The Eagles, making their first district tournament in the history of the school, made it close for the first 10 minutes but fell behind fast after that.

Northwestern took the lead two minutes before the end of the first quarter and led 16-10 after eight minutes.

United came back to within 18-14 but the Huskies then canned 11 straight points to take a 29-14 margin with two minutes to go in the half.

After three frames United trailed 55-34. In the waning minutes of the last frame subs filled the court for each team.

Northwestern made 31 of 62 shots for 50 per cent and United 20 of 52. In fouls the winners were 17-22 and the losers 4-9.

The 3,381 fans present saw Chance leave the game at the 3:30 mark but returned seconds later in an attempt to break Ray Pryor's 45-point tournament record set in 1954.

Chance had 41 at the time. Pryor scored his at the fieldhouse while this game was staged at the auditorium.

Jim Summer paced United with 15 points while Boze Johnson had 16 for Dan Baker's defending title holders.

BRACEVILLE looked as if they were going to make the game a rout in their win over the sophomore and junior dominated Columbiana squad. It was 20-11 after the first frame.

It was 29-16 before Rich Berryman's team got to work. The Clippers tallied 10 straight to eventual 11 knot the count at 32-32 just before the half. Braceville led 34-32 at the intermission.

Braceville grabbed a 55-45 margin after three quarters. Columbiana had trailed 38-35 here but the winners rallied behind Jim Brewster before the stanza ended to pad their lead.

Columbiana, in the last eight minutes, came back to within 60-55 and 63-58. The last five point margin was with 2:25 left.

Braceville stood off the challenge however to post its victory.

The Bees made 24 of 66 shots for 36.3 per cent while Columbiana was 24 of 75 for 32 per cent. In fouls Braceville was 22-28 and the Clippers 13-20.

Brewster was high for the Bees with 25 while Don Davidson had 25 for the Berrymen.

Outstanding Cager Is Victim of Fire
RUSTON, La. (AP) — Bobby James, the only junior selected on the 1959 All-Southwest Conference basketball team, died in a fire at his family home Sunday.

Funeral services for the 20-year-old outstanding Southern Methodist University athlete were to be held today, with six teammates as pallbearers.

James, one of the conference's top performers, died in the fire after an evening with his fiancée, Miss Sandra Woodward. A June wedding had been planned.

A preliminary investigation indicated the blaze started in a bathroom wall heater and the youth apparently suffocated, fire chief James Mabry said.

James, 6 feet 5 inches tall, had been considered for All-America honors.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. James, and two brothers, G. W. James Jr. of Ruston and Tommy James of Pascagoula, Miss.

Havana — Florentino Fernandez 139-94, Cuba, stopped Cesar Qrta, 137-1/2, Venezuela, 4.

Cleveland East Tech Draws Elyria for Wednesday Night

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Cleveland East Tech is to repeat as Ohio's Class AA high school basketball champion, the Scarabs will have to get over a pretty high hurdle in their first regional tournament.

The surviving 16 teams in each classification drew opponents for the regionals Sunday, and East Tech was matched for Wednesday night with Elyria in the qualifier at Berea.

The Scarabs have won 21 straight this year, and 47 over the last two campaigns — but Elyria has a 23-game streak going for this season.

This one would be a natural for the state championship finals—the

Horn Goes 11-9 In Junior AAU Track Meet

Jim Horn, former Salem High pole vaulter and now a freshman at Westminster College in New Wilmington, Pa., tied for first Saturday in his specialty during a junior AAU track meet held in Pittsburgh. Horn leaped 11 feet, nine inches.

Horn had seven jumps while his opponent had six thus he was awarded the second place medal which makes him eligible for next year's junior meet.

He'll compete in the senior AAU meet in Pittsburgh March 27 and in the Knights of Columbus invitational meet in Cleveland March 20. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Horn of MC 1, Salem.

Minnie Mino Late, Blames Fidel Castro

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Minnie Mino, fined $500 for reporting late to the Cleveland Indians' training camp, blamed his tardiness in part on Fidel Castro.

The Cleveland slugger, who played winter baseball in Cuba, said Cuba's rebel leader made him a lieutenant and sent him to Venezuela as a good will ambassador during the Caribbean series in Caracas.

"But you came back from there weeks ago," Tribe General Manager Frank Lane told him. "I saw your picture in the paper getting in shape by signing autographs."

Mino then told of troubles in getting a visa for a Cuban player he had scouted and whom Lane wanted in this country.

"I promised I would and I didn't want to go back on my word," said Mino. "Now maybe I'll turn in a $500 bill for expenses."

The 36-year-old outfielder, reportedly the highest paid man on the tribe's roster, said he is in good shape and ready to play.

Manager Joe Gordon said he is not worried about Herb Score despite the battering Score received Saturday in three innings against the San Francisco Giants.

Bradley Beats Cincinnati 84-66

Akron Handed First Conference Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate cage campaign was practically a matter of history today, and the final chapter of the 1959 saga was a dilly.

After a full season of maneuvering, the clubs were forced down to the wire to reach decisions in three conference races — and another hinges on a game tonight.

The big one tonight has Cincinnati's Bearcats against St. Louis, and the Queen City powerhouse must win to grab the undisputed Missouri Valley Conference crown.

The Bearcats lost a chance to wrap it up Saturday as they lost to second-place Bradley 84-66 after leading by eight at halftime.

Should St. Louis upset the 'Cats, Bradley will share the laurels.

In other eye-catching action last week, Wittenberg handed Akron its first Ohio Conference defeat.

70-52, the Springfield Lutherans taking the championship on the sprawling 14-college circuit. A bid to the small college NCAA tourney went with the victory, but Wittenberg bowed out of that arena in the second game.

Miami, king of the rugged Mid-American Conference the last two years, and leader all the way this season, lost its last two games and allowed Bowling Green to ease in for half the championship.

In a playoff for the NCAA berth which goes with the M-A title, Bowling Green was a convincing 76-63 victor on Dayton's neutral floor.

John Carroll snagged the Presidents' Conference championship in the final game Saturday, winding up with 10-1 to Washington and Jefferson's 9-1 record. Case, leader most of the season, finished third after losing several players in mid-year tests.

Following tonight's St. Louis-Cincinnati game, only Tuesday's Western Reserve at Penn tilt, and a few tournament games, remain on the Buckeye agenda.

Girls Entered In Wrestling Show Feature

Former professional wrestler, Frank "Toar" Julian, now a promoter, will present his fourth wrestling card of the season tonight at 8 at the Hi-Neighbor Barn on the Pidgeon Road.

The first bout will be a one fall-30 minute bout between Frank Fozo of Hamilton, Can. and Bobby Braun of New York City.

The second match will pair Lou Bremmer, a former Mr. America, against Jim Wright of Los Angeles. They'll go for 90 minutes or best two of three falls.

Barbara Baker of New York and Betty Hawkins of Nashville will wrestle in the feature match. Tickets are on sale at Fishers and Heddlestons.

Warren Trackster Sets Jump Record

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Steve Enck of Ashland and Paul Warfield of Warren Harding each set a new record for the Denison University High School Indoor Relays.

The largest field ever — 375 trackmen — were entered in Saturday's fifth annual relays in which 29 schools were represented but no team points awarded.

Of 12 events, Warren Harding, Rocky River and Columbus East each won two.

Enck leaped 6 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the high jump, breaking the old relay mark of 6-1. Warfield's 22-foot broad jump was 2 1/2 inches better than the previous record.

TIED FOR 4TH PLACE
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Athens, Ohio, was locked in a five-way tie for fourth place after Sunday's third round action in the New Orleans Open. Finsterwald fired a 70 Sunday to give him rounds of 69-74-70-213.

Collins, on the other hand, has accumulated only $1,400.

The 5-9 Litterer and the broad-shouldered Collins offer as starting a contrast in golf as could be found. The 28-year-old Litterer, with earnings of more than $8,000 ranks only behind Art Wall Jr., as the top money winner on the current tournament trail.

Collins, on the other hand, has accumulated only $1,400.

Hollywood, Calif. — Mann Gallardo, 129, Los Angeles, outpointed Felix (Pelon) Cervantes, 130, Mexicali, Calif., 10.

Robertson Leads Bearcats Against Bradley Tonight

By The Associated Press
Who gets basketball's Oscar? The National Invitation Tournament or the NCAA Championship?

The question could be answered tonight when Oscar Robertson, the second straight year, leads the Cincinnati Bearcats against the Bradley Braves at Cincinnati.

If Cincinnati wins, the Bearcats will be in the NCAA title event as the Missouri Valley Conference representative with Texas Christian, Kan., Friday. Bradley then would fill the last open spot in the 12-team NIT play opening at New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday.

Should St. Louis defeat Cincinnati, the question will be answered at Wichita Kan. Wednesday with the Braves and Bearcats meeting in a playoff. Cincinnati has a 12-1 conference record and Bradley 12-2 after breaking even in a home-and-home series. St. Louis, already in the NIT is third at 1-3.

The Missouri Valley Conference bracket is one of the two remaining spots to be filled before 23 teams start play in the NCAA title event. The other is the Border Conference for which New Mexico State and Arizona State University meet for the title tonight. The Border ended in a three-way deadlock but New Mexico eliminated Texas Western 65-48 in the first play-off game Saturday night.

Two brackets were filled in play-off games Saturday. Dartmouth edged Princeton 69-63 for the right to represent the Ivy League and Bowling Green beat Miami of Ohio 76-63 to get the nod from the Mid-American Conference.

Meantime, DePaul got the jump on the remainder of the NCAA championship field by turning back Portland 57-56 in a first round game between two at-large selections at Portland. The victory moved DePaul into the Lawrence regional, where the Demons will meet Kansas State, Bib Eight champions, Friday.

Here's how other first round play shops up in NCAA action: Tuesday at New York—West Virginia vs. Dartmouth; Connecticut vs. Boston University; North Carolina vs. Navy. The winners join St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania in Charlotte, N.C., Friday and Saturday.

Tuesday at Lexington, Ky.—Eastern Kentucky vs. Louisville; Bowling Green at Marquette. The winners move on to Evanston, Ill., Friday and Saturday for the Mid-East regionals into which Kentucky and Michigan State drew a bye.

Wednesday at Tempe, Ariz., or State College, N.M.—Border Conference representative vs. Idaho State. The winner takes on St. Mary's (Calif.) in one game and California meets Utah in the other Friday at San Francisco.

The four brackets for the Mid-West regional at Lawrence Friday and Saturday already have been filled. From the four regionals will come the winners for the semifinals at Lexington, Ky., March 20.

In the small college field, the NCAA narrowed its field to eight, the NAIA to 32 over the weekend. The eight NCAA small college teams clash at Evansville, Ind., Wednesday with the semifinals scheduled for Thursday and the finals Friday. The NAIA swings into action in Kansas City today with eight first round games on deck. The other eight, including defending champion Tennessee A&I, play their first round games Tuesday. Finals are Saturday night.

Pairings for the Evansville tournament are North Carolina A&T vs. American University, St. Michael's (Vt) vs. Evansville, Hope vs. Southwest Missouri and South Dakota State vs. Los Angeles State.

Cincinnati could have settled the Missouri Valley question Saturday but fell before Bradley 84-66 as Robertson scored only 24 points. His average is 33.6.

North Carolina qualified for NCAA play Friday and then lost an 80-56 decision to North Carolina State in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tournament. N.C. State, however, is on probation and not eligible for the NCAA tourney.

Other entries in the NCAA's big college field ended their regular season in a blaze of glory. Michigan State thumped Iowa 84-74, Kansas State crushed Missouri 108-69 with Bob Boozer getting 32 points, California nipped Oregon State 55-52 and Utah turned back Colorado State University 68-61.

Thousands of visitors are expected to attend the 22nd annual American and Canadian Sportsmen's Vacation and Boat Show which will be held at Cleveland Public Hall Friday through March 22.

Twenty entertainment features have been scheduled, and 150 exhibits will be on display. Exhibits will consist of guns, tackle, boats, swimming pools, camp needs, cameras and supplies, sports wear, wheel goods, pets and skin diving equipment.

A replica of an Indian Village will occupy one entire hall. An added attraction will be a sports car display of 32 different makes of automobiles.

The doors will be open from 6 to 11 p.m. the first day, and noon to 11 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. All other days the show will be open from 1 to 11 p.m.

Pettit Assured Of Breaking Mikan Record

By The Associated Press
Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks has eclipsed the fabled George Mikan as the greatest scorer in professional basketball history.

Scoring 30 points Sunday as the Hawks lost to Minneapolis 120-104, Pettit brought his season's average to 29.3 a game. With one game left — even if he is blanked — Pettit is assured of breaking the 28.4 mark Mikan set in 1951.

Pettit already has broken George Yardley's one-season NBA scoring record of 2,001 points. The Hawk ace has amassed 2,078 for the 1958-59 campaign as the National Basketball Assn.'s premier point-maker.

Two other records were established Sunday as teams prepared for the playoffs beginning Friday.

The Boston Celtics, paced by Bill Sharman's 29 points, defeated the Cincinnati Royals 141-131 and rang up a season record of 52 triumphs. In the same game, Celtic Bill Russell snared 25 rebounds to give him a season's total of 1,588. He set the previous standard last year.

In other games, New York defeated Detroit 127-120 and Syracuse romped to a 133-103 victory over Philadelphia.

CARD OF THANKS

IN MEMORY of our loving son and brother, Thomas W. Adams, who passed away 3 years ago today. The fairest lilies are the first to fall. The sweetest first to fade. The fondest, dearest, best of all. At peaceful rest is laid. As some sweet blossom drops and dies.
When blighted by the frost, He faded from before our eyes. And all too soon was lost. But in God's garden free from pain, Where grow His fairest flowers, We know that we shall meet again. This fairest bloom of ours.
Sadly missed by mother, father, brother, grandparents, aunts and uncles.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

After swinging across country for some 4,000 miles, it seems to me that there are almost that many dummy unions operated by the minor muscle men of the old Murder, Inc. and Capone mobs. They set themselves up in these shake-down outfits just as the syndicates once put their boys in bars, little restaurants and "candy" stores as fronts for the numbers rackets.

But by calling themselves unions they are above the law. They operate from the Brooklyn marshes to the Pacific beaches. They terrorize thousands of small merchants.

Some of these dummy unions have been found by the McClellan committee to have just eight or 10 members. Some have only $25 in their so-called treasuries. Some have incomes from dues of less than $50 a month. Some multiply like rabbits and have issued 20 or 30 sub-charters. Some are known to keep their minutes on a single piece of scratch paper or, more likely, on a racing scratch sheet.

THEN THEY STAY above the law. They mockingly go through the rituals entitling them to protection under the law as legitimate unions. So you can't touch these mobs, though some of their "business agents" have records of 35 or 40 arrests ranging back to 1924 for any crime you can mention.

There is an "international union" which calls itself "The Federated Service Workers Union." It is typical. It was organized by a handful of men on July 18, 1950, in Brooklyn, U.S.A. The group sat around and picked a fellow by the name of Evans as president because he had a nice sounding name. They then declared themselves an international union.

They've been running it for almost nine years. They have the same rights as the Steel Workers, Auto Workers or the Machinists. In fact, the FSWU set up smaller dummy unions which sound just like those in the AFL-CIO — although one of the locals, No. 19, has recently been described by the McClellan committee as a haven for former Murder, Inc., goons.

TYPICAL of the dummy unions they "chartered" are such outfits as Bank Employees Local 10 and a few Journeymen Barbers, Locals 11 and 15.

Local 12a and 12 of the Laundry Workers Union — which has nothing to do with the regular Laundry Workers — were unleashed. There is a Restaurant and Cafeteria Workers Local 26. Recently the word "Hotel" was added to this outfit. And they are in the new business of harassing New York inns.

There's a Clerical Workers Local 16; a Mechanical Workers Local 17; a Messengers Local 512; a Pressers Local 27 (imitating the legitimate one in the Ladies Garment Workers Union); an Auto and Service Workers Local 21 and even a Transport Workers local (no tie to the regular union of that name).

And, of course, there's the now famous Juke Box Local 19.

To make all this look real the international officers ran a "convention" not too long ago. The three delegates sat down to dinner in a Brooklyn restaurant. That was on the night of Sept. 24, 1957.

It was the only "convention" in history to do business during a five-course meal. They had "convention proceedings" — right regular. They simply scribbled some notes on a single piece of scrap paper. But under the law they are an international union.

McClellan committee records — and those of investigators across the country — show that some of these "unions" are merely multi-million dollar shakedown operations.

They simply use the right to picket — to put a man in front of a store or a restaurant — and have a regular price list for the removal of the animated caricature of a real working man. They rent desk space and install a phone. They even are among the 36,000 unions which file financial statements with the U.S. Department of Labor. Under the present law these statements can't even be checked, nor can false filings be punished.

UNIMPRESSED—As mysterious as ever, the Sphinx stares out over the desert, impervious as Argentine actress Linda Cristal busses a smiling tourist guide. She was among a group of sight-seers who journeyed to Gizeh, Egypt, to see landmark.

Without a new anti-racketeering law — these shadowland unions will become mighty powerful dummies.

INFLATION....

...just an "Indian Giver"

Not only is inflation an "Indian giver"—he's a pickpocket to boot.

Under inflation you think you get a few more dollars in pay. But then you go to spend them. Now you find that inflation has already taken back those dollars!

Inflation is caused by a lot of things. But one of the most important is rising labor costs without a substantial increase in the nation's productive efficiency. The reason: 75 percent or more of the final cost of what you buy goes for labor.

It's kind of a chain reaction. With each round of wage and price increases, your dollars lose another chunk of purchasing power.

If things keep on this way another twenty years—or ten—or five—what will happen to your savings, your insurance, your pension plans, your children's education?
